To whom it may concern,

While working as a product manager for Infocus in Wilsonville, Oregon, I hired Mark Clevenger as a contractor to design and develop a Microsoft Visual Basic Active Server based employee intranet portal and develop the core code for an off-site discussion board.

I found Mark knowledgeable on many aspects of web-based systems, programming and the current tool sets to get the job done. He introduced innovative ways to solve endemic problems precipitated by our legacy system. His efforts directly contributed to significant time and cost savings allowing us to exceed our design goals and accelerate our roll-out plans by one full quarter.

I appreciated how easy it was to work with Mark. His courteous, tactful manner helped diffuse pre-existing inter-departmental tensions; and his enthusiasm was instrumental in getting the team moving in the right direction to successful completion of the project ahead of schedule and under budget.

I found Mark's work habits exemplary and highly recommend his services.

Please feel free to call me at 503 419-6239 .

Sincerely,
